“ My daddy, was a very loving and giving man to each person he met with a want for more in life than just your basic staples. If you had a dream no matter owning RJR or shovling your cows dung it mattered to just have a moral dream. My daddy laughed at a person getting mad over really good advice most people got mad about, he cried although portraying to be the tough guy. Not unlike my sister Carla Ann Pardon Coffey that has a heart of gold that appears to be hard. My daddy will always live as long as his kids reside on earth. My Daddy

“ My papaw was a big personality.He loved coffee, black pepper, and cantaloupe. Whistling and singing. Annoying others for his entertainment, and children. He loved all things living, wanting to be outside the majors of the time. He was a caring and providing grandpa. His imagination was wild and he was inquisitive, loving to read and learn. He told me every year of my memoried life he was dying soon and going to “ leave on that jet plane.” The preparation It doesn’t help none now that it’s happened.
